

Assessment Stream

Mission: To bridge the gap between schools, students, parents, and clinics.

Finding the right assessment for the child	We have a list of services curated specially to meet the needs of students without overwhelming parents with unnecessary costs or jargon.
Bridging the gap between parents, schools, and clinics	The school will have an exact understanding of what assessments are available and can match students with the specific options. This avoids confusion between schools, parents, and clinics about what is required and how best to support the student.
Recommendations tailored to school's existing infrastructure	Feedback has revealed that schools don't find lengthy reports useful, as much of the information gets lost in the text. We want to create a recommendation and formulation section that is appropriate to the school's needs and can allow for efficient and effective transition from report to classrooms.
In-House Assessments	We would schedule the intake with the parents, assessment with the student, observation, and discussions with the teachers, all at school.
